

2016-2017 Fine Arts Fees Annual Report

Fine Arts Fees Funds

The Fine Arts Fees (or "FAF") fund is accumulated with support from all students paying tuition at the University of Utah. These student fee monies are used to support the Arts Pass program, offer all University students free or discounted tickets to campus Arts events, as well fund the FAF Grants program.

The Fine Arts Fee supports various arts and culture resources on campus, including the Arts Pass program. This program provides free or greatly reduced tickets to all matriculated University of Utah students for various campus performances, productions, exhibitions, and other cultural events. A small portion of the funds also support FAF grants, the Fine Arts portion of ASUU student group fees, which offers grants to students.

An Overview

FAF Grants awards are available to all sponsored, registered, student groups in the College of Fine Arts (CFA). Grants awarded support non-credit activities that enhance students' learning and experiences by delivering extra-curricular Fine Arts events to the individual students, the University, and the community at large. The FAF Grants funding committee is comprised of CFA student leaders who have been selected by their peers to represent their respective departments. Students organize, budget, and compose a grant to request funding for each project. The committee awards approximately $100,000 yearly to student-led activities, travel, performances, visiting artists, and more.

Projects must originate in the CFA, have a CFA faculty member advisor, have approval of the appropriate department/school, and may involve students from other colleges.

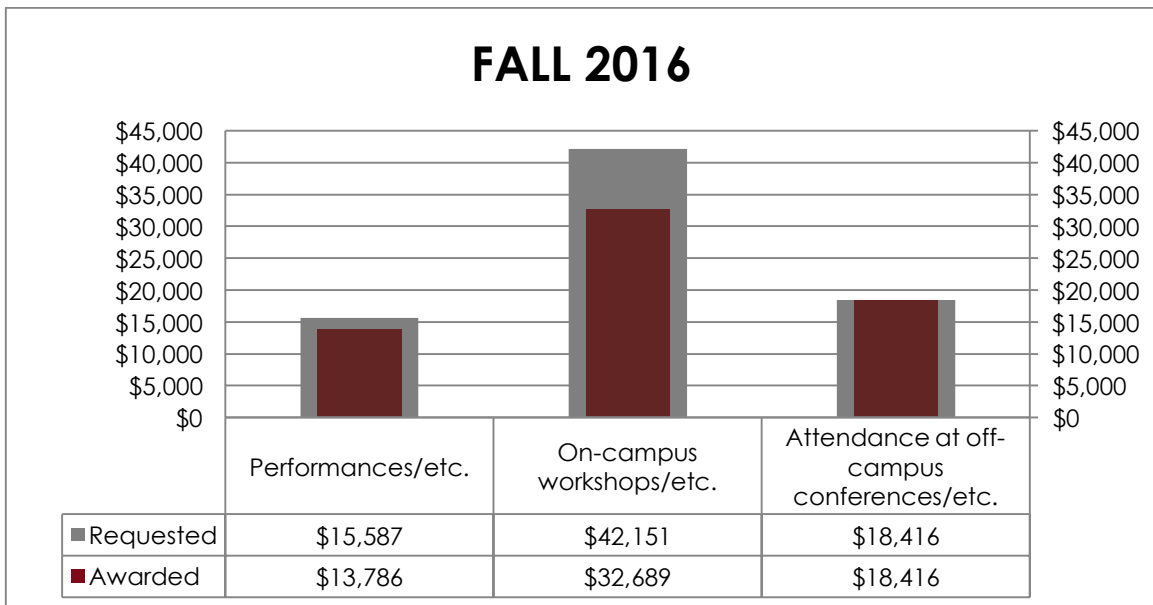

For more information on eligibility and restrictions on use of funds, visit the FAF Grants website.
